Many Cuban Industries Paralyzed by Shortages

HAVANA (AP) — Despite the Castro regime's boast that it has thwarted the U.S. economic embargo of last October many Cuban industries are paralyzed by shortages of raw materials and spare parts or operating only sporadically, industrial sources reported today.

This is particularly true of enterprises formerly owned by Americans. The sources cited the once-flourishing tire industry as a prime example.

It used to turn out 10-12,000 automobile and truck tires a week. Now it produces a trickle of about 300 from one of four factories that used to be run by Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone and U.S. Rubber.

This plant will close down its production line Tuesday because of acute shortages of raw materials, said an industrial expert.

"Unless some carbon black and certain other essentials are found quickly, Cuba's tire production is a dead duck," this expert said.

Sources said Cuban authorities made desperate efforts to get substantial quantities of carbon black in Canada but failed. They turned next to Europe, seeking offers on both sides of the Iron Curtain without immediate result.

Washington banned U.S. exports of everything but food and medicine to Cuba four months ago in retaliation for Castro's virulent anti-United States campaign, his nationalization of almost all U.S. property in Cuba and his increasingly close ties with the Communist bloc. Cuba used to buy about 75 per cent of all its imports from the United States, or about $300 million worth a year. This has been cut to a third.

The picture is the same in other plants seized from American or private Cuban owners, industrialists here said.

The picture is brighter in the more vital field of sugar production. Two independent foreign export centers in central and eastern Cuba said they were highly impressed by the first government-handled harvest.

Thousands of Airline Workers Face Furloughs

Six Firms Struck by Engineers; Goldberg Plea Is Rejected

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines caught in the widest wildcat strike in aviation history began furloughing thousands of workers today.

The four-day-old strike of flight engineers which hit the nation Friday night has cut domestic and international services of the six airlines involved to a relative trickle.

The struck lines agreed the strike has cut normal operations of four-engine jet and propeller planes by 80 to 90 per cent.

Eastern Airlines announced Sunday night it was beginning a layoff of from 6,000 to 7,000 workers in Miami.

Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines, National Airlines and American Airlines said they would begin furloughing a total close to 60,000 if the strike wasn't ended today.

The layoffs would affect about 20,000 employees at Trans World, the same number at American, about 15,000 at Pan American and about 3,500 at National.

Western Airlines, the sixth major carrier hit by the walkout, adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

Announcement of the furlough plan came on the heels of an acknowledgment Sunday by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg that he had been unable to bring about a settlement.

Protest NMB Decision
The engineers, members of the Flight Engineers International Union, are protesting a Feb. 6 decision by the National Mediation Board ordering them to join the Air Line Pilots' Association as a single bargaining unit.

Pilots outnumber engineers on all lines, and the engineers say the decision might have the eventual effect of wiping out their union.

Goldberg spent two days in New York City negotiating by telephone with the Engineers' Union and the struck carriers. He left Sunday after union leaders in Washington said their members had sharply rejected his plea that they return to work while their problem was investigated.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in Miami Sunday night that there was nothing the federation could do to help settle the strike.

Meany said he had tried several times to solve rival job rights claims of the pilots and flight engineers.

Thefts Solved By Arrests of Ten Youths

RAVENNA — The arrest of 10 youths here and in New Castle, Pa., since Feb. 8 has solved at least 19 burglaries in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the Portage County sheriff's department discloses.

All the youths, who had been operating in the three states since last November, are from Deerfield and Diamond.

Sheriff's deputies Joseph Hegedus and Donald Doek, assigned to the case by Sheriff Ross Dustman, said more arrests were expected.

Burglaries of taverns, garages and service stations netted the youths an undetermined amount of cash, tires, auto accessories, motor oil, anti-freeze and food. The gang also burglarized school buildings at Niles and Berlin Center, cottages at Lake Milton, custard stands, restaurants, junk yards, grocery stores and coal company offices.

Those arrested in New Castle were Walter Abberg, 19, and Everett Pauley, 18, both of Diamond, and Charles More and Terry Tomor, both 19, of Deerfield. They were charged with five tavern burglaries in the New Castle area.

Also arrested were Kenneth Pontius, 18, Carl Myers, 26, and Eddie Riddle, 19, all of Deerfield; Ronald Greet, 19, Diamond; and two 17-year-olds from Deerfield and Diamond.

Abberg, Pauley, Moore and Tomor are being held by New Castle authorities pending further investigation. They also are wanted by Portage County authorities.

Pontius pleaded not guilty here last week to charges of burglary.

6 Lumumba Aides Murdered In Kasai

BULLETIN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld told the U.N. Security Council today that six associates of the slain Congo leader Patrice Lumumba had been killed in secessionist Kasai Province.

The secretary-general's announcement touched off a round of vigorous protests in the 11-nation council.

Liberia's delegate proposed that the council adjourn its debate until 3 p.m. He said he wanted to consult with other African nations on the latest incident. Chief U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson supported the Liberian's proposal.

Negro Students Get Solitary

Went on Sit-Down In Prison Camp

By The Associated Press
Eight Negro students jailed in a Rock Hill, S.C., sit-in demonstration have been placed on bread and water in solitary confinement for what prison officials called a sitdown and refusal to work.

Charles C. Maloney, superintendent of the nearby York County prison camp, said "We will let them out when they show us they are ready to go to work and obey orders."

Maloney confirmed Sunday the students from Friendship College at Rock Hill had been in solitary since Friday. They were among 11 jailed recently when they refused to post $100 bail each pending appeal on conviction of trespass during a variety store sit-in.

A white man and a Negro, both from Washington, D.C., remained in jail over the weekend at Rock Hill after arrest on breach of the peace charges during a brief scuffle at a Saturday demonstration.

Both chose the "jail, no bail" of other demonstrators for racial equality in the South.

At Greenville, S.C., 11 young Negroes, four of them women, faced trial for assembling in a city park Saturday without a permit in an unsuccessful attempt to get into a skating rink for white persons.

In another development at Greenville, Southeastern regional NAACP leaders completed a four-day meeting by calling on Negroes to stop buying from those who didn't give them equal job opportunities.

Clarence Mitchell, Washington director, told the closing session the NAACP is considering whether to establish a 10-million-fund through private and group contributions to meet the economic challenges of discrimination.

Catholics in Georgia and South Carolina were informed that parochial schools will be desegregated not later than the public schools in their respective dioceses.

Amish Families Plan To Move To Canada

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Several Amish families in the Brewster area are preparing to go to Canada, where they feel they will not be bothered by the draft or social problems, an Amish leader reports.

Henry Hershberger of near Mount Eaton said Sunday seven or eight families, all relatives of or members of the Levi Shelter family, plan to leave in March to join relatives in Canada.

Members of the Shelter family started selling household belongings Friday at auctions.

Hershberger, an Amish sawmill operator, said, "Two members of their church have been called for the draft in recent years and decided to go to prison rather than serve in a hospital (as conscientious objectors)."

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A new uproar was expected in the Security Council today over a U.N. report that the Congo government in Leopoldville secretly deported seven political prisoners to secessionist Kasai Province and three were rumored slain there.

The council seemed in for a repetition of the storm kicked off last Monday by announcement of the killing of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba and two close political associates.

The chief of the Congo operation, Rajeshwar Dayal, reported to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that six of the prisoners had been flown to Bakwanga, capital of Kasai's so-called "mining State" Feb. 9 and a seventh a week later.

Three Rumored Killed
He said rumors persisted that three had been killed—Jacques Lumumba, once a secretary of state under Lumumba; Jean Fiant, ex-president of Oriental Province, and a Maj. Fataki, former commander of the Stanleyville gendarmerie.

Dayal said the other deportees were Lumumba's health minister, Kamenga; the president of his youth movement, Nzuzi, and two men named Elengesa and Yanga.

The U.N. official said the deportations were "a matter of grave concern, considering the fate of Lumumba and the two men killed with him in Katanga Province, former Senate President Joseph Okito and former Youth Minister Maurice Mplo.

Threatens U.S. Effort
Dayal's report threatened U.S. efforts to win council recognition for Premier Joseph Ileo, named by President Joseph Kasavubu to head a new central government in Leopoldville. It threw a cloud over last week's suggestion of the U.N. conciliation commission in the Congo that Ileo's regime became the basis for a broad government of national unity.

Some diplomats expected the United States would propose that in ordering any new measures in the Congo, the council specify that Hammarskjöld be given a role, that Kasavubu be consulted and that non-U.N. military aid be kept out.

While the report of the deportation of political prisoners from Leopoldville threatened chances of U.N. recognition for the Ileo government, the Communist-recognized Lumumbist regime in Stanleyville apparently was in danger of falling to pieces as a result of individual rivalries.

Takes U.N. Refuge
The U.N. command in Leopoldville announced that Anicet Kashamura, left-leaning Lumumbist chief of Kivu Province, had taken refuge in a U.N. camp to escape arrest by partisans of Antoine Gizenga, the pro-Communist head of the Stanleyville regime. Stanleyville Interior Minister Christophe Ghenye, sent to Kivu by Gizenga to replace Kashamura, already was in the same U.N. camp to escape arrest by Kashamura. A U.N. spokesman said anarchy prevailed throughout Kivu.

There also were unconfirmed rumors of a deal brewing between Gen. Victor Lundula, the Stanleyville army chief, and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, head of the army in Leopoldville.

Lumumba's death continued to spark protests abroad.

Wilson, Pidgeon Named At First National Bank

The election of James H. Wilson as vice-president of the board of directors and the appointment of Joseph A. Pidgeon as a new director of the First National Bank was announced today by President L. H. Colley.

The appointment of Mr. Pidgeon as a director was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Atty. Charles G. McCorkhill. Mr. Wilson has now been elected vice-president of the board, succeeding Mr. McCorkhill, who held this position for several years.

Mr. Pidgeon, a life-long resident of Salem, was graduated from Western Reserve Academy and attended Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh. He is a partner with his brother in the operation of the Church Budget Envelope Co. and the Budget Press, both in Salem. He and his wife, the former Ruth S. Wright of Salem, have four children.

Mr. Pidgeon is a director of the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp. and also is a director and vice-president of the Salem Golf Club. He flew as a fighter plane pilot with the "Flying Tigers" in China and Burma in the Second World War.

James Wilson, Sr., has served as a director of the First National Bank for a number of years. He became president of the Salem Tool Co. in 1942, having previously been secretary and treasurer. He started with the company after graduation from Dartmouth College.

Mr. Wilson has been an active worker in all Salem community organizations and has been president of the Manufacturers Association. He was president of the Community Fund, and, for several years, a member of the Board of Education.

A member of the board of trustees of Salem City Hospital, he has for many years been identified with the Columbiana Council Boy Scouts of America, formerly was president of the Council and is now on the executive board and is a member at large of the National Council.

Maid Inherits Fortune From Employer

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP) — A Negro onetime maid, who lives in a Tudor mansion in this virtually all-white suburb of New York City, has inherited a fortune of almost one million dollars.

Police investigation of an accidental shooting and a death from natural causes led to disclosure Sunday that Ravelle Hughes, 64, the former maid, had inherited the fortune and since last June had been owner of the mansion.

Miss Hughes, shot in the groin, was reported in satisfactory condition in a hospital.

She was given the fortune and the mansion in the will of Evelyn Adams, spinster daughter of the founder of the Adams Cheating Gum Co. Miss Adams inherited the fortune from her mother several years ago.

Police said Miss Adams left her estate to Miss Hughes, who had been her maid and companion for about 39 years.

Miss Hughes continued to live at the "Adams House" after her employer's death in June, but her ownership of the mansion was not publicly known. Then Matilda Shaw, 45, Negro maid for Miss Hughes, died Saturday. Police

Urges 3-Year Program of State Grants

Funds Marked for School Construction, Teachers' Salaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today proposed a $5.7 billion aid-to-education program designed to set "a new standard of excellence in education" available "to all who are willing and able to pursue it."

In a special message to Congress, the President called for:

A three-year program of outright grants to the states for use in building classrooms or raising teachers' salaries. It would provide an average of $19.75 for each child in average daily attendance in public elementary and secondary schools the first year, increasing to an average of $24.22 the third year. Total cost: $2.3 billion.

College Scholarship Program
A five-year program of college scholarships, averaging $700 each with an additional $350 to colleges and universities for each scholarship winner enrolled. There would be 25,000 scholarships the first year, 37,500 the second, and 50,000 thereafter. Total cost: $577.5 million.

Continuation of the 10-year-old program of long-term, low-interest loans to colleges and universities for dormitory construction, at a rate of $250 million a year for five years. Total cost: $1.3 billion.

Establishment of a similar loan program for the construction of college classrooms, libraries, laboratories and other academic facilities, at the rate of $300 million a year for five years. Total cost: $1.5 billion.

No funds were recommended for constructing schools or paying church school teachers' salaries. But no distinction was made between public and private institutions regarding college scholarships and loans to colleges.

GOP Ready With Substitute
Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois announced he was ready with a Republican substitute for Kennedy's education program.

Dirksen's measure is a four-year $1 billion proposal. Federal aid, to be matched by the states, would be limited to construction of classrooms.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., opposes federal contributions to teachers' salaries.

Kennedy said he will ask Congress at a later date to amend and expand the National Defense Education Act of 1958. The act authorizes the college student loan program and emphasizes improved instruction in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages.

He also said his administration will review the government's current programs in vocational education.

The President told Congress, "This is a modest program with ambitious goals."

It does, indeed, fall far short of the recommendations he received from his special task force on education last month, and short even of the aid to education bill which died in Congress last year after passage in the Senate.

Kennedy's proposed grants to the states for classroom construction or teachers' salaries would cost $666 million the first year, $766 million the second, and $866 million the third.

The task force, headed by President Frederick L. Hovde of Purdue University, called for $30 for each pupil in average daily attendance, plus $20 per pupil in states below 70 per cent of the national average income, plus $20 per pupil to states over 300,000

DiSalle Stands on Middle Ground

Public Utilities Rates Formula Again Issue In Ohio Assembly

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio — That bothersome bug called RCN has come back to pester the Ohio General Assembly again.
The letters stand for "reconstruction cost new." Add the phrase, "less depreciation," and you have the formula set up by Ohio law for determining the rates public utilities can charge their customers.
RCN has become a biennial issue in the General Assembly. The combatants in the fight are the cities, who charge the rate base is unfair to customers, and the utility companies, who declare that just is not so.
The RCN bug was reinserted into the Legislature's bloodstream recently via a special message from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who supports the state Democratic party's platform pledge to seek a change in the law.

Cities vs. Utilities

The cities want the RCN formula replaced entirely. The utilities want it kept intact. The governor stands on middle ground: His bill would allow the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to give equal consideration to RCN and to another approach called "fair value."
All of the complex language used in discussing the rate base formula boils down to these questions:

1. How should the commission determine the value of a company's investment?
 2. What percentage of return in profit should the commission allow the company to receive on its investment?
 3. How high do customers' rates have to be to give the company that profits?
- The fight over RCN involves the first question.

The Cost New

Under present law, as it has been interpreted by the Ohio Supreme Court, the value of the company's investment is decided basically by figuring out what it would cost now to build or buy the plants and equipment it uses to furnish electricity or gas or telephone service. From that figure—the reconstruction cost new—is subtracted the actual allowance for depreciation of the plants and equipment through use. In simplified terms, the result is the value of the company's investment.

From there the commission goes on to answer the next two questions and decide whether it should approve the customer rate increase requested by the company.

The Foes

The foes of RCN say it inflates the actual investment the company has made and therefore results in higher prices to the consumer for utility services.

An example cited by DiSalle in his special message was a 1912 automobile. It would cost a lot more to build the flivver today than it did 50 years ago, the governor said, and it would not be nearly as efficient or desirable as the modern autos now available.

The Friends

But the utilities counter this argument with the example of a house that was built 10 years ago for $10,000. If the market value of the house is now $20,000, would it be fair to require the owner to rent or sell it on the basis of the original cost, which is only half as much?

As for the effect on consumer prices of the RCN formula, the utilities say Ohioans pay average rates that are among the lowest in the entire nation. They do not deny that they show good profit pictures, but they argue that this has two benefits to the state's economy and their customers:

1. Good earnings attract investors who put their capital into sound businesses.
2. Good earnings, rather than marginal profits, allow companies to expand their plants and equipments with an eye to the future, so that in the long run customers get better service at more reasonable rates.

Thus, the utilities say, the RCN formula has allowed Ohio utility firms to give greater rewards to their customers, their employees and their stockholders.

But, they say, Ohio's natural resources, productivity, population density and transportation facilities should give the state's residents an advantage even greater than they now enjoy.

The opponents of RCN do not claim that Ohioans would get a wave of rate reductions if the law were changed. But they say future increases would be fewer and smaller.

It's Complex

This concentration on the long-term future is what makes the RCN controversy so complex to the average utility user. How can he decide what's best for his pocket-book if the experts themselves do not agree on the possible effects of a change in the law?

The supporters of the governor's middle-ground suggestion contend that this problem is partly answered in his bill because it would not throw out RCN entirely but merely temper it with another method of deciding on investment value.

The utilities reply that their facts show RCN has been favorable to everybody concerned, but nobody can guess what the effect of a change would be.

Caught in the middle of the legislative argument is the Public Utilities Commission. Because it is, in a sense, an arbiter, its members naturally do not feel they can go on record by taking sides unless they are asked to express their views to the legislature.

To simplify their individual positions, however, it appears they would like to have a little more discretion in deciding individual cases than they feel the present law gives them.

They also express some concern over what they call the "regulatory lag," which means the delays imposed by the complexities of the rate-making procedure.

Birth Rate Led Deaths Here In '60

Salem's birth rate almost doubled its death rate in 1960, it was revealed in figures recently released by the city health department.

The number of births in the city of Salem in 1960 was recorded at 230, while 137 deaths occurred during the year. In contrast, 289 persons were born in the city in 1959 and 128 died during this period.

A total of 1,384 births occurred in Salem residential, Salem non-residential, and Perry Township areas combined in 1960. Along with the city's 230 births, Perry added 65 and Salem non-residential 1,089. In 1959, the combined births in Perry of 66, Salem city, 239, and Salem non-residential, 1,141, totaled 1,496.

Total deaths in 1960 in the area were 397, with 137 occurring in Salem city, 11 in Perry Township and 249 non-residential. In 1959, area deaths totaled 334, with 128 from Salem city, 18 from Perry Township, and 18 non-residential. Twenty-one stillbirths occurred in 1960, and 22 in 1959.

In a rundown of area deaths by age groups, the health department reports the following figures for 1960, and 22 in 1959.

Under one day, 22 deaths in 1960 and 16 in 1959; one day to three months, 9-9; three months to one year, 3-1; one to ten years, 4-6; 10 to 20 years, 5-1; 20 to 30 years, 7-6; 30 to 40 years, 11-13; 40 to 50 years, 12-15; 50 to 60 years, 50-37; 60 to 70 years, 83-63; 70 to 80 years, 113-98; 80 to 90 years, 70-60, and 90 to 100 years, 8-9.

Major causes of deaths in the area were attributed to malfunctions of the circulatory system and cases were 122 and 59, respectively. The causes of deaths in the area and their respective numbers in both 1960 and 1959 are as follows: Circulatory, 122 in 1960 and 107 in 1959; heart, 34-50 cancer, 59-60 to 70 years, 83-63; 70 to 80 years, 113-98; 80 to 90 years, 70-60, and 90 to 100 years, 8-9.

Ceramic Tile Can Make Old Table Look Like New Again

Don't throw away that old coffee table or end table just because the top is scratched — or just because you don't like the way it looks.

Ceramic tile will make it look like new, and without much effort will give it an expensive, custom finish.

If you don't have a table to refinish, you still can make a tile table by using a piece of 3/4 inch plywood as a base. Legs can be the inexpensive wrought iron variety, or you can make wooden legs to fit any period furniture.

The first big step is to decide just what color and kind of tile you want. Any tile supply house has displays of ceramic tile in many patterns and shapes. The smaller sizes are probably best for coffee tables and give an expensive appearance.

Money Saving Tip

Here's a hint on saving money on buying tile: although the material is comparatively inexpensive, ask for closeouts or leftovers. The small amount needed for a table should make it easy to pick up leftovers.

Now clean the surface to be tiled of all dust or dirt. A can of white tile mastic should be used to paste down the tile and it can be purchased at any supply house.

A notched trowel is used to spread the mastic evenly across the top of the table. If you buy tile in the smaller sizes, the pieces will come pasted to a sheet of paper. You press the side of the tile not stuck to the paper on the mastic.

After a few minutes, wet the paper and it will easily peel off. The mastic will take time to set so you still have time to adjust any tiles to make sure you have a nice fit at the table's ends.

Elaborate Designs Possible

If you are artistic enough and have the ambition, you can work up elaborate tile designs by placing one tile at a time on the mastic.

Let the tile set for at least 24 hours, and then you're ready to fill the cracks with grout. First, take a damp rag and rub along the cracks to wet the tile. Then mix the grout with water until you form a paste and rub it into the cracks while the tile is still damp. Wipe off the excess before it hardens. Any grout that remains after it hardens can be taken off with a wet rag.

The next step is the trim around your table. Here again, personal preference is the only guide. You can use any type of molding, quarter round, or just plain strips of wood.

After the trim is on, finish grouting between the wood and the edge tile.

You can use the 4x4 inch glazed ceramic tile but they must be placed one at a time. These look especially nice on larger tables. They make an unusual and attractive top also for an entire dining room table. Besides alternating colors, they can be painted with designs and initials.

LOW-COST DESIGN — Economy is uppermost in mind in the design of this three-bedroom, 1,083 square foot ranch-type home. Costs are reduced by (a) designing the basic house in an unbroken rectangle; (b) arranging the frame to standard lumber lengths and sizes; and (c) placing plumbing back-to-back. The architect is Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y. and the plan is HA174M.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: We have a asphalt tile flooring throughout our house and we would like to replace it with hardwood floors. Is it necessary to rip up the tile before putting down the hardwood or could we put the flooring right on the tile?

ANSWER: The tiles will have to be removed. Even minute fragments of the tile must not be allowed to remain on the concrete subfloor. We are assuming that the subfloor is concrete, since you said that the tile is installed throughout the house. Before the hardwood floor is put down the surface of the concrete must be given a coat of asphalt primer, allowed to dry for 24 hours and then covered with a special asphalt mastic.

QUESTION: We are having trouble with the windows sweating in our kitchen. The water is running down the window panes, off the sills and onto the walls. How can this condition be corrected?

ANSWER: The sweating is caused by excessive humidity in the kitchen. An exhaust fan would appear to be the solution. This not only will take out the high moisture content, but will remove grease and fumes caused by cooking. You'll probably find that the kitchen walls will stay cleaner a lot longer.

me how I can get dark spots off my kitchen cupboard doors? The spots are in the area of the door handles. I have tried washing and using steel wool but these methods only dull the spots and do not remove them. The doors are driftwood finish, applied in two coats with steel wooling between the coats.

ANSWER: It appears that the spots are more than just ordinary dirt, otherwise the washing would have removed them. It is likely that grease has been deposited on the doors over a period of time and that it now has cut its way into the finish. That leaves you no choice but to put on a new finish, since it is unlikely that a patching job would be satisfactory. You will have to sand down the present finish lightly, then apply a coat of one of the special undercoaters designed specifically to cover and seal in marred areas. Explain the problem to your hardware or paint dealer and he will recommend the proper undercoater. When this solution has dried thoroughly, proceed with whatever finish you choose, once again giving it two coats, as was done originally. Complete the job with a coat of wax, which will take the brunt of any future marks near the handle. Wipe off finger marks as they occur, which will not be too difficult with the wax covering. Also, re wax the doors every year until a new finishing job is necessary. When that time occurs, remove all the wax with turpentine or a wax remover before refinishing.

HIGH C (FOR CAT)—Tony, the pet of Mrs. George Silfies, Cleveland, Ohio, has been dubbed the coolest cat since Callas. When his mistress practices, Tony nominates himself a one-cat audience. When she turns to Chopin or Brahms he becomes carried away and sings (or looks like it). "He really prefers stringed instruments," says Mrs. Silfies. "He can curl up and nap inside the cases."

Care Advised In Selection Of Roofing

Choosing the roofing material for a house is an important decision for anyone, whether he's an architect, a builder, or a home owner getting ready to reroof, says architect Roy S. Johnson of Tarrytown, N.Y.

The right choice of a roofing material, says Johnson, can mean an important cash savings, a contribution to the appearance of the house, and the security of knowing the roof will give good protection from all kinds of weather.

Johnson, one of the Eastern seaboard's leading designers of fine homes, says these are the things he looks for in a roofing material:

1. Ease of application. Some roofing materials require special training, tools, and experience to apply. An example of a material that is easy to apply is asphalt shingles. Any qualified roofer can apply them skillfully and dependably without costly, wasted labor.
2. Color. Johnson says that although he prefers white or other subdued light-reflecting colors of asphalt shingles, deep or blended colors on the roof can enhance the appearance of many homes.
3. Texture. A soft, textured appearance without any harsh glare is an architectural "must" with Johnson. "Hard, gleaming surfaces are for office buildings and greenhouses, not homes."
4. Durability. A good roof, say Johnson, should last for years without giving any trouble, and should never rot, corrode, or dent.
5. Low cost. In building a new home or remodeling an old one, the cash savings in choosing a dependable long-lasting roofing material in applied cost may permit the installation of such things as more appliances in the kitchen or another bathroom.

FHA Helped U.S. Become A Nation Of Home Owners

The Federal Housing Administration, which rounded out 25 years of service on June 27, 1959, has been in the forefront of the remarkable advances American housing has made in the last quarter of a century, says FHA Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman.

Home ownership, once only a dream for many families, is now within the reach of most. FHA led the way in providing a nationwide demonstration that a mortgage made for a long term and a high percentage of property value was the logical way to finance a home, and most homes are now financed that way.

Here are some of the contributions FHA makes in serving the American public:

Emphasis on good planning and construction through minimum property standards so that the buyer may be assured of getting good value for his money.

Appraisals to give the home buyer a careful, objective estimate of what his property is worth.

Influence on community development through land planning services so that new neighborhoods as well as individual homes are planned for livability, safety, and lasting value.

Analysis of local housing markets, helping to point out areas where new housing is needed and to direct building operations away from other areas where there is danger of overbuilding.

Standardized mortgage, helping to make mortgage money available more evenly throughout the country.

Insurance of loans for property improvement, enabling 22 million families to repair or improve their properties to date.

Aid in strengthening the building industry, enabling it to serve the public better.

A SENSATIONAL NEW AUTOMATIC AIR PURIFIER!
You've never experienced such clean, pure air in every room in your home, because there's never been an air purifier like this. Latest product of Carrier research, it attaches to a warm air furnace, provides these four important benefits:
PURIFICATION—Pollens and other harmful elements are continuously removed from the air. This power to reduce contamination and thus purify the air has been well established by laboratory test.
CLEANLINESS—A unique filter, self-cleaning to maintain its high efficiency, makes homes cleaner, too. Less need to dust. Furnishings stay fresher longer, so cleaning bills go down.
ODOR REMOVAL—Cooking and other odors are whisked away. Even air heavy with pipe, cigar and cigarette smoke is sweet and fresh again in minutes.
HUMIDITY CONTROL—Moisture is fed into bone-dry warm air that irritates sinus and nasal passages and causes furniture to come apart.
This sensational Air Purifier can also be added to an air conditioning system. For details, come in or call.

We Lack Initiative On Projects

The government has announced that federal funds will be released to help speed up highway construction projects and Ohio's Governor Michael DiSalle has pledged cooperation in the program which is designed to help combat the recession.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston said Friday that a $36 million allocation due in April will be made available for immediate use. As the result, he says, contracts will be let for the $104 million worth of highway construction for the first half of the year.

It is a safe assumption that none of this money will be used on any road projects in the Salem district because no coordinated effort is being made by local officials and civic leaders to secure highway improvements in the immediate area.

Meanwhile, excavation work has begun near East Liverpool for the $6 million California Hollow-West End Freeway, a four-lane highway that is scheduled for completion by Oct. 31, 1962. The East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce can take credit for that project, and it isn't their first.

If Salem ever expects any early action on the proposed Route 62 and Route 45 relocations, its leaders had better maintain a better job of public relations than has been evident. It is true that city officials had the arterial highway and comprehensive surveys completed, but however important those reports are, they won't do any good gathering dust on a shelf.

The Salem Chamber of Commerce, city officials and the Manufacturers Association, with county assistance, can be instrumental in getting much-needed highway improvements in our area if they show a little more initiative than has been apparent.

Salem will get only what it goes after.

Considering All the Handicaps

American Heritage Foundation has done a fine service by cataloguing the principal things that keep Americans from voting. It has taken the stigma of apathy off the citizenry.

Americans are not apathetic about voting. American Heritage Foundation estimates that 81.5 per cent of all U.S. citizens who actually were eligible to vote did so last Nov. 8.

This is a different version than to say only 66.2 per cent of citizens of voting age went to the polls, which sounds as if the others neglected their rights. They had at least nine compelling reasons for not voting. They were on the move and couldn't meet residence requirements. They were ill. They were traveling. They were southern Negroes. They couldn't pass literacy tests. They lived in the District of Columbia. They lived abroad. They were in prison. Or they were barred from voting by religious scruples.

As many as 19,950,000 citizens were barred from voting for these reasons, American Heritage Foundation estimates. It has been trying to modernize election laws to increase voting eligibility. A list of the states showing voting percentages in 1960 reveals what needs to be done. In Idaho, at the top of the list, the total vote was more than 80 per cent of the civilian population of voting age. In Mississippi the percentage was a little more than 25.

Mississippi requires two years residence in the state and one year in the election district, collects a poll tax, permits no absentee balloting by civilians, requires a literacy test and has no registration after the first week in July.

Idaho has permanent tax-free registration and permits registration up to three days before election. Six months residence in the state and 30 days in the county are required. Absentee voters can register by mail.

Ohio, which reached a percentage of 71.349 last Nov. 8, waived residence requirements for presidential balloting this year.

The apathy that was supposed to be undermining popular government in the United States cannot be found when it is looked for. What American Heritage Foundation has found instead, is such a weird mish-mash of restrictions that it's a wonder anyone votes at all in some states.

Kapoot, the Poor Eskimo

The auto industry's mass layoffs, to give customers a chance to cut into the huge inventory of 1961 automobiles, clinch the case against bad weather.

People in the United States north of the boiled greens and flying sand zone are not cut out to be Eskimos. They would rather be up-and-coming Yankee Doodles.

Eskimos almost never buy automobiles because the climate where they live is even rougher than it has been in Salem this winter.

During the worst of the winter, Eskimos don't go out any oftener than they have to, because, baby, it's colder outside than the nose of a Malamute at 40 below zero.

In fact, the Eskimos are so busy during the winter keeping body and soul together that they have no time for redecorating the igloo, repainting the sled, or buying books on 39 delicious ways to prepare blubber.

If and when spring comes, the Eskimo families will hitch up the dogs and go to town. They will loosen their skins, so to speak, and live it up. It's an old Eskimo custom. More than that, it's an old human custom.

Harsh weather cramps human style. It causes problems. It represses outgoing natures and encourages inhibited natures. That's why Eskimos have made no progress. They are too cold to do anything but shiver.

And that's why when the terrible winter of 1960-1961 is finally over and Americans in the snow belt can put away their parkas, there will be a gold-rush stampede to all the places where things are displayed for sale.

No one ever has evaluated weather as a deterrent to trade. But it's a fact that business never is brisk in Eskimo-land in mid-winter, and it's a safe surmise that a ferocious season is having a major effect on the snow belt in America this year. Because so much of the wealth and enterprise of the country happen to be located in the snow belt, the effect is being magnified in U.S. business and employment, or rather in lack of business and lack of employment.

By H. I. Phillips

were merely experiencing a "short?" We hear that convicts in adjacent cells keep yelling at the electric moguls "Hey! Could we get an electric drill from any of youze?"

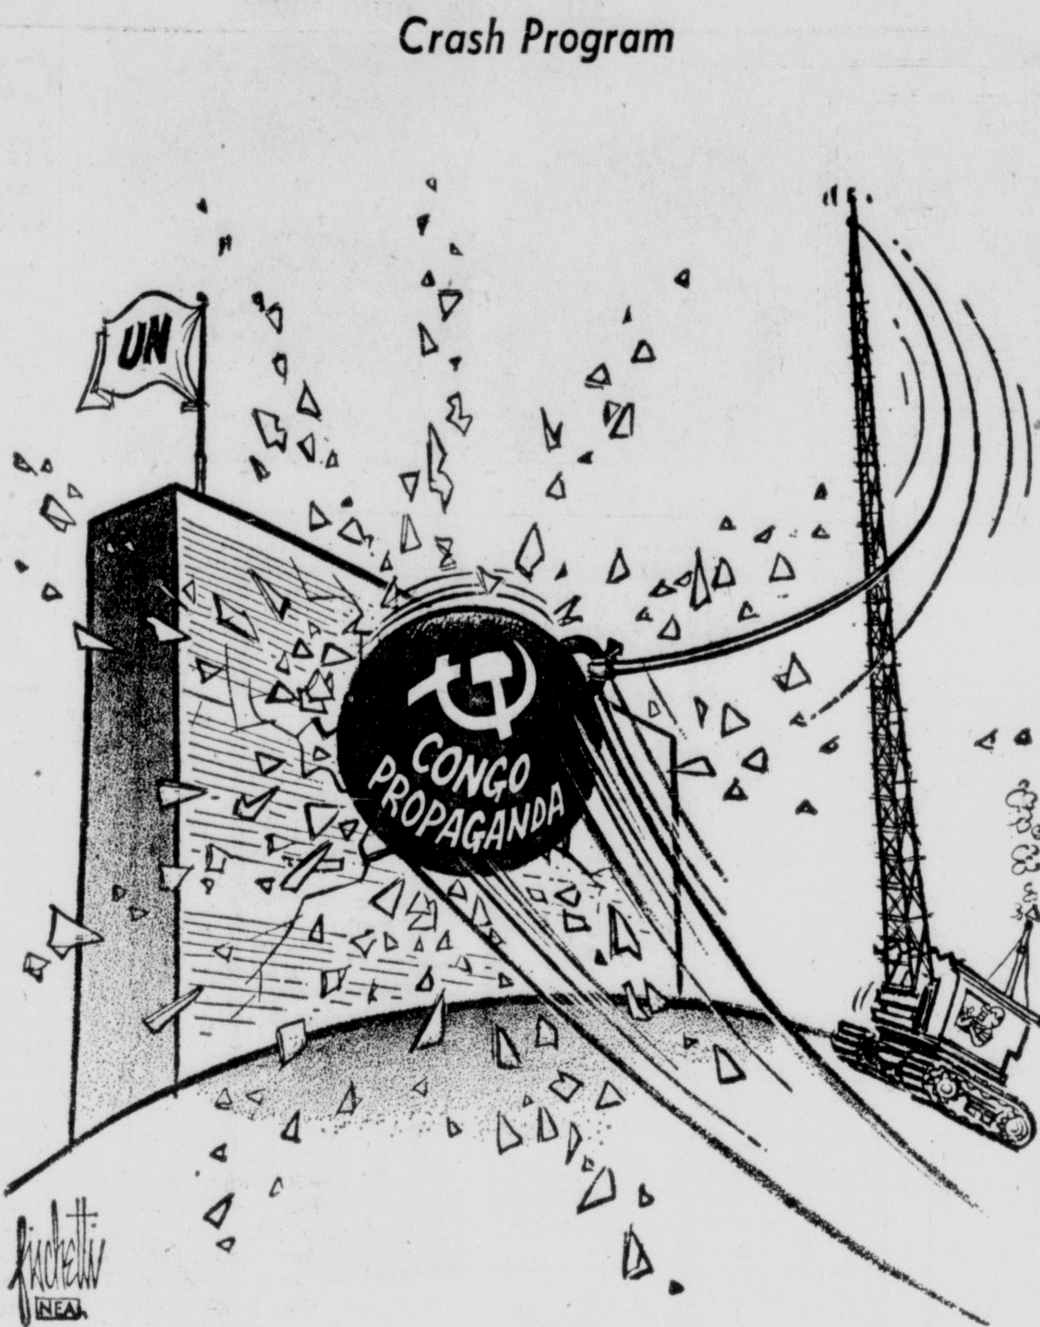

President Kennedy in friendly talk to industrialists says Democrats "seek more than a truce and want partnership in spirit of full-fledged alliance" (Is that what all those federal forms, questionnaires, summonses, and warrants mean? Anyhow the President is not saying to both business and labor, "Go to your corners and come out fighting." He seems to be substituting, "We're all in the same boat; let's all use oars instead of harpoons."

Harvard students have started a magazine in support of Republicans. It's the only way they can keep anybody on the faculty.

Robert Kennedy's book "The Enemy Within" has been bought for movie. This can make Jimmy Hoffa sever relations with Hollywood.

Railroads need help, with New Haven Railroad so broke the federal government and states are coming to the rescue but some promises by New England system seems to be offered for comic relief. Road agrees to issue commutation books weekly instead of monthly, for example. So commuters will feel less pain because they will get used to it faster? Then there's the pledge of the railroad president to put more signs on depots, reupholster seats, mend broken windows and fix the shades. Omigod! Who's demanding more signs on stations? It won't comfort passengers, bound from Boston to New York, to imagine they must be near Bronx and discover they are just passing Bridgeport.

Repairing the shredded upholstery, of which New Haven Railroad has largest collection on earth, is something else again. No passenger likes to sink into what he assumes is a car seat and discovers he is lost in a rag pile.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

There are gentlemen from Japan graciously dining in the best homes of Peiping. And the best homes in Soviet China, of course, are those commandeered by Mao Tse-tung and comrades. It takes no reading of the after-dinner teas or a counting of the hot saki glasses to realize that the Nipponese travelers — industrialists all — no longer take Communist China as a personal insult.

The gentlemen from the Ginza strip left Tokyo for Peiping via Japan Airlines on Jan. 31. They plan to stay until March 5.

This is no travel note. Instead, this trip has provoked a high-pitched note of anger inside those American business and industrial circles which have been forced to watch the same Japanese industrialists kill off U.S. factories by the hundreds of thousands.

These very same gentlemen whose low-priced goods are choking our markets are the gentlemen now in China as the guests of Mao and Chou.

The men and merchants of Tokyo, who tell us we must suffer their competition to strengthen them against the Chinese Communists are now dealing directly with those Communists.

THEY ARE on an economic "good will mission" in the name of the Japanese International Trade Promotion Association. On the junket from Japan are 19 leading businessmen representing nine "key branches of Japanese industry and business including shipbuilding, rayon, machinery, weaving and banking."

The mission's task is to hold "talks on ways and means of reviving economic relations between the two nations." They'll be moving in high Communist society. Let's not waste too much time on their official host — Nan Han-chen, chairman of the China Trade Promotion Association.

The Peiping counterpart of Mr. Yamamoto just wants to do business with the Japanese. He has a colleague who is more intriguing — a Comrade by the name of Liao Cheng-chih. He is chairman of the Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee — which is dedicated to the proposition that the United States must either be destroyed or communized by Oriental and African peoples.

Comrade Liao will spend considerable time with the Japanese business delegation. Nothing like solidarity among friends who want our capital but not our capitalism.

THIS NIPPONESE delegation has irked some of the Chicago leaders who have been worrying about local unemployment created by Japanese competition but who have not wanted to do anything which might move Japan towards Sovietized China.

Yet they observed on the Tokyo delegation list Zeno Nishida, the head of the Japan Electric Wire Association. He is, in fact, a deputy leader of the mission to Peiping. Yet his industry earns millions of dollars in profits from exports dumped into our electrical and electronic, radio and TV markets.

Furthermore, this exchange of delegations is not limited to merchants and manufacturers. On Jan. 24, for example, a 10-member delegation of the All China Federation of Trade Unions (Peiping, China, that is) arrived in Tokyo.

They came at the invitation of Sohyo — the national Japanese labor movement. They supplied the street rioters last year.

Welcoming them at the airport were officials of Sohyo, as well as leaders of the Socialist and Communist parties.

Obviously, the United States would not win a popularity contest among the traveling business and labor groups — yet these are the forces which live off us.

AT THE MOMENT the United States is buying almost 31 per cent of all Japanese exports — or about $4 billion. Over the past 13 years this flood has helped to wash out more than 800 textile mills, Sen. Pastore told me the other day. More than 350,000 jobs, mostly in the Northeast but many in the South as well, have been wiped out, according to the Rhode Island senator.

As for the "weaving and spinning" business men on the delegation visiting Communized China, they sell more than 168 million shirts, brassieres, bouses and gloves.

We tolerate this industrial invasion because Japan is a friendly nation. That friendship has cost many an American worker his job.

That's a sacrifice no worker should be called on to make for the friends of the Afro-Asian Solidarity crowd. This makes no sense.

The Hall Syndicate

"Give me your frank opinion—just as if our friendship didn't matter!"

Enough time has elapsed — in the hush-hush period that has prevailed since the American fliers who survived the crash of the B47 came home — for the American people to be given the truth about the episode.

The fact is that the American plane was shot down when it was 30 miles away from the coast of the Soviet Union. Since it was over international waters, the shooting was a direct attack on the rights of American citizens and a flagrant violation of the law of nations.

President Kennedy on Jan. 27 ordered the returned fliers not to talk to any members of the press. He explained later that the purpose of the blackout on the news was to give the Air Force a chance to "de-brief" the fliers after they had visited their families.

Obviously there was another purpose — to keep the subject out of the world press lest it irritate the Soviets and cast some doubt on the professions of friendliness being made by them at that time.

In fact, the President said the release of the fliers "had removed a serious obstacle in the way of peaceful relations between the Soviet Union and the United States."

Since that time, however, relations between the Communist regime and this country have worsened. Mr. Kennedy had to speak bluntly at his Wednesday press conference. He was careful in what he said and revealed that the statement he read had been prepared in advance as a policy declaration, presumably after consultation with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and U. N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

THE WORDS of that statement were the sharpest issued by the present administration toward the Soviet Union and in some respects more defiant than any comment by the Eisenhower administration.

The occasion, of course, required just such frankness and bluntness, President Kennedy said in part:

"I am also, however, seriously concerned at what appears to be a threat of unilateral intervention in the internal affairs of the Republic of Congo."

"I find it difficult to believe that any government is really planning to take so dangerous and irresponsible a step. Nevertheless, I feel it important that there should be no misunderstanding of the position of the United States in such an eventuality.

"The United States has supported and will continue to support the United Nations' presence in the Congo."

Now everyone, including the President, knows that the Soviet Union has for several months been engaging in a unilateral intervention in the Congo and that President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the heads of several other African nations which play the Communist game have recently been withdrawing their troop contingents from the U. N. forces in the Congo and otherwise aiding the Russian intervention in support of the late Patrice Lumumba.

But it is considered wise and tactful in diplomacy nevertheless to assume publicly sometimes that what a government knows is happening is theoretically not happening. The idea is to give the other side a chance to withdraw gracefully from its position.

RUSSIA is being told flatly now that the United States intends to stand behind the secretary-general and the U.N., with a hint that, if necessary, it will supply troops for the U.N. army to enforce law and order in the Congo.

This creates a new crisis in the cold war — not only inside the U.N. but in Africa.

President Kennedy has, in effect, warned the small nations in Africa and elsewhere that they cannot depend on the Soviet Union to maintain their independence for them and that their best hope lies in supporting the U.N. in the Congo mix-up.

He was addressing the small African nations particularly as he said:

"The United States can take care of itself but the United Nations system exists so that every nation can have the assurance of security. Any attempt to destroy this system is a blow aimed directly at the independence and security of every nation, large and small."

Under the circumstances, it may be wiser now for the world to be told the whole story of the Soviet Union's deliberate attack on the RB47 over the high seas and the holding of the two survivors in prison for seven months.

Nothing is evidently to be gained by hushing up the affair. For the fact is Moscow's culpability has been played down and this type of thing often encourages an aggressor to take more chances with a supposedly pliable adversary.

Incentive for Business

By HOBART ROWEN

The question of tax incentives for business is very much on the minds of President Kennedy and his key officials. It comes up in two ways. First, Kennedy and Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon are seeking ways of stimulating business investment in this country for new plants and equipment.

Second, up for decision is a knotty and related problem: Should the government continue in effect a special tax privilege designed to encourage American businessmen to build plants overseas?

All told, the value of American properties in foreign countries is close to $40 billion—and increasing at a fast rate. In 1960, alone, there was $2.5 billion of new long-term capital that moved abroad.

On investments at home: The business community is almost unanimous in its belief that allowances for accelerated depreciation — a faster tax write-off — would help economic growth. Some economists on the other hand, wonder whether it makes sense to try to stimulate more plant building at a time when here clearly is an excess of capacity over demand.

The answer to the latter argument is that we need plant modernization, even if we do not need new factories in some industries. We have tended to fall behind Europe, which—with American aid since the war—has reconstructed much of its industrial capacity from the ground up.

The competitive disadvantage some American companies find themselves in stems from a comparison of available equipment and factories. Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg estimates that some $75 to $90 billion worth of American plants have become outdated.

While we fostered the incentive to invest abroad, by allowing American subsidiary companies to postpone payment of taxes until they bring their earnings home, no extraordinary tax incentive for plant expansion at home has been provided.

The tax postponement feature provides a tremendous advantage, even though it may appear to be just a temporary one, because the subsidiary of the American company in a foreign country can use all its earnings for further investment.

The Kennedy administration doesn't want to interfere with legitimate investments abroad (which in future years will return profits to this country) but it is seeking a formula which would continue the tax-postponement inducement to invest in the underdeveloped countries but choke it off for countries which no longer need that kind of help.

On the domestic side, the prospects are much more certain than the harder-to-define foreign investment problem: The Kennedy administration will find some formula for fast tax write-offs for plant modernization.

Popper, why are the Russians going to Venus?

Get back to your homework, I'm busy. But teacher says we kids should know about it.

Let teacher start a class in double feature rockets. It's his job not mine. Why did Khrushchev date Venus in April instead of some other month, Dad?

He may figure April is a good month in the Venus territory. Do your arithmetic. Why can't America reach Venus first?

Because there is no market there for electric iceboxes, sport cars, cosmetics, detergents and irregularity pills. Pipe down.

Daddy, you shouldn't brush me off when I am asking serious questions.

Look, kid, let's face it, Venus is off my beat and out of my circle. I don't want to seem ignorant but I have been so busy making both ends meet that I couldn't locate Venus in a planetarium even with expert guidance. Have you done your potany lesson?

Popper, will it hurt the Democrats now that everybody knows Russia didn't dare start for Venus while Eisenhower was in office.

No, Ike had no Venus policy and Kennedy had to start from scratch. It's tough going. I understand he could see Venus on a clear night from Palm Beach or Virginia but not from Washington, Cape Cod or Georgetown. Scram ya?

Do you think anybody is aboard the Russian rocket, Dad?

Khrushy is a showman and I wouldn't be surprised if he got off in the Venus district and waved his shoes at her.

Teacher says we should know how the rocket is tracked. Can you track it?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am bored with your repeated admonition that married people must never strike one another no matter how angry or frustrated they become.

May I tell you that I learned from experience that the only way to get my husband in line (especially after he has had a few drinks) is to smack him one right square in the mouth?

He's one of those guys who likes to tease and he doesn't know when to quit. When I reach the limit to my patience I just swing from the floor and let him have it. It works like magic. He doesn't get smart with me for weeks after that.

So why don't you mind your own business? All things are not good for all people. — SOLVED WITH OUT HELP.

Dear Solved: You bet all things are not good for all people. Most men would respond to a smack in the mouth quite differently. You could find yourself picking teeth up off the floor.

If this system works for you then it's all right with me. But people who belt each other around, so far as I am concerned, are savages. I hold no brief for physical violence.

Keep Safe Distance

Dear Ann: I'm another one who has read your column for years and never thought I'd be asking for help.

I'm 19, employed, female and quite content. When I was an infant my mother left my father and me for another man. Dad raised me as best he could. I spent several years with aunts and uncles and housekeepers. Three years ago Dad married a lovely woman who is giving him real happiness.

My mother has phoned me four times in the last three years. She says she would love to see me. I have agreed but she never has shown up. My aunts have told me that she is a heavy drinker and a tramp.

I think about Mother more and more and would like to tell her off. I have no love or respect for her and I'd like her to know it.

I could locate her easily through my aunts. I think I have this coming. Do you agree?—HOPE.

Dear Hope: No. You would accomplish nothing constructive by telling her off. Why risk the guilt that might result from such a meeting, to say nothing of the possibility that she might attach herself to you permanently? The only good thing between your mother and you is distance. Keep it that way.

The Last Word

Dear Ann: Why do I always wish I had not said what I did — after it's too late?

It doesn't matter whether it's a casual conversation over the back fence or a social function with several people listening. After I've spoken and think over what I've said (often many hours later) I realize I could have said it better — or, worse yet, I ought not to have said it at all.

Is there something wrong with me? — INFERIORITY COMPLEX.

Dear Complex: Your feelings of insecurity make you inordinately self critical. It may be a comfort to know that every living man, woman and child experiences these same feelings from time to time.

Relax, talk sense and don't speak merely to combat the silence. Remember, a word once uttered, is like a dollar spent. It's gone.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, has asked the Army Corps of Engineers to include $280,000 in a supplemental appropriations bill to provide for a survey of the proposed Lake Erie — Ohio River waterway.

The bill is a part of President Kennedy's program to give a boost to business. Total cost of the survey would be $536,000, but work could be started with an appropriation of $280,000, the rest to come in a regular appropriations measure. The survey would take about three years.

The Doctor Says

Safety In Space Heating

Scarcely a day passes without a report of one or more deaths from asphyxiation as the result of a malfunctioning space heater. Since these accidents are preventable, I'd like to tell you what can be done to avert any such tragedy in your home, especially if your living or sleeping quarters are confined, in small rooms of an apartment, flat, house or trailer.

Whether you heat by oil, gas, coal, wood or any other fuel, you must provide for an adequate air supply or draft. If you fail to do this, you face at least two hazards.

The first and Dr. H. T. Hyman less dangerous is an accumulation of relatively harmless carbon dioxide and an accompanying deficiency of oxygen. This combination is apt to make you breathless if you're awake. And to waken you if you've fallen asleep. For prevention and relief, all you need to do is open a window.

The more dangerous is serious and even fatal poisoning with carbon monoxide.

THIS GAS is colorless and odorless. It can accumulate slowly and sneak up on you while you doze or sleep. It forms when the flame from any kind of fuel is starved for air. What happens then is an incomplete burning of the fuel with the production of poisonous carbon monoxide instead of less offensive carbon dioxide.

A typical instance of carbon monoxide poisoning from a space heater is related in the very excellent bulletin of the North Carolina Board of Health.

ON THREE OCCASIONS, the owner of a small grocery store was found unconscious by a customer. Each time he was rushed to a hospital where he was assumed to have had some sort of heart attack. But then his wife had a similar attack. This led health officers to inspect the store where they found that a ceiling-hung gas heater had a flue that was ineffective when the store doors were closed for any considerable length of time.

If you rely on a space heater to warm a small shop that does not have a steady flow of customers or to warm your living or sleeping area, you must provide a steady supply of air to replace that used up in the burning of fuel. In other words, you must have a clean flue and chimney of ample size as determined by the firm which sold you the space heater, or by your health inspector whose services are free.

YOU MUST BE especially careful if you reduce the amount of space you heat during the night. For example, if you use the heater to warm several rooms throughout the day and then restrict the heating area to the bedroom at night, you may increase the possibility of asphyxiation. Whereas doors are frequently opened and shut throughout periods of activity and air makes its way through walls, windows and chimneys in the several rooms, there is a great reduction of air intake in a sleeping chamber practically sealed off for the night. Since carbon monoxide is an odorless gas that may accumulate in fatal concentrations without producing warning symptoms, it is a hazard that's greatly to be feared.

All you have to do to avert this danger is to provide a free intake of air when your space heater is in use.

4 Churches At Leetonia Join For Service

LEETONIA — The community World Day of Prayer was observed at the First Methodist Church Friday evening with all four Protestant churches taking part.

The theme, "Forward Through The Ages" was in five parts: Meditation by Mrs. Myrtle Woodward of St. Paul Lutheran Church; "We Come in Joyful Remembrance," Mrs. Blanche Weikart of the Methodist Church; "We Come in Penitence and Dedication," Mrs. T. P. Laughner of the Lutheran Church; "We Come in Glad Commitment," Miss Ruth Bowman of the Mennonite Church; and "We Come in Assurance and Hope," Mrs. Rachel Kliner of the Presbyterian Church.

Others taking part in the program were: Mrs. Ruth Cleckner, Mrs. Cleo Calvin, Mrs. Laura Beilhart, Mrs. Mary Burgess, Mrs. Rosa Cox, Mrs. Mary Edgerton, and Miss Mary Ellen Cutchall.

Benediction was by the Rev. Robert E. Ferguson of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Merle Davis presided at the organ.

The newly-organized Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church held its first regular meeting Wednesday evening in the church. Future plans were discussed.

Mrs. William Floding will entertain the Past Noble Grand Club of the Rebekah Lodge at her home this evening.

During the summer months, the temperature on the floor of Death Valley in California has been known to hit 126 degrees.

Engagement Revealed

Miss Mary L. Brian

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brian of 1332 Cleveland St. entertained at a party for the family and a few friends Saturday to announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Emil Arthur Renner Jr., son of Emil Arthur Renner of Youngstown and the late Mrs. Renner.

Miss Brian is a graduate of Salem High School and attended Margaret Morrison Carnegie College in Pittsburgh.

Her fiancé was graduated from Ursuline High School in Youngstown and the University of Michigan. He served four years during World War II, three of which was spent in the signal corps in the CBI Theatre. He is associated with the Renner Brewing Co. of Youngstown.

Winona

Rev. L. J. Hadley, who has been ill for three weeks, is improving. The Winona Methodist Choir held a short business session Wednesday before rehearsal, Dennis Cummings in charge. Director Ron Gesaman announced the Easter Concert will be on March 26 at 8 p.m. The choir is planning a coverdish supper next Wednesday at 6 p.m., with regular rehearsal to follow.

Mrs. Clyde Hendershott entertained Wednesday with a party in honor of her son James' 9th birthday. Several schoolmates attended and James received gifts. The refreshment table was decorated in the Valentine theme, with a large birthday cake as centerpiece.

Westville

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berlin of Westville Lake entertained Tuesday in honor of their son's third birthday. Those present were Mrs. Bertha Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pucci and sons Gregg and Kevin, and Mr. and Mrs. David Gansel and daughter Lynne of Alliance.

East Palestine Nips Minerva to Win Tri-County Title

Hartshorn Grabs Scoring Crown

Columbiana Places 3rd in Loop; Leetonia Ties for 6th; Lisbon Last

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The East Palestine Bulldogs not only won the Tri-County League basketball title this season but they also boasted the top scorer in the loop.

Jim Hartshorn, 6-1 senior, hooped 348 points in 18 games for a 19.3 average to grab the scoring crown. Hartshorn has led the loop throughout the early part of the season, but Minerva's Don Miller caught the East Palestine flash and went around him near mid-season.

Going into the final two games last weekend, Miller and Hartshorn were deadlocked for the scoring title with 304 points apiece. In those last two games Hartshorn outscored the Minerva star, 44-24.

Additional Sports On Page 8

MILLER PLACED second with 328 points; Columbiana's Rich Harrold was third with 292 markers; and Leetonia's Jim Franko closed with a rush and wound up in fourth place with 275 points and a 15.3 average.

East Palestine spoiled Minerva's bid Saturday for its third straight Tri-County League crown by nipping the Lions, 52-47, in a showdown battle at East Palestine. Minerva had defeated the Bulldogs, 65-51, earlier in the season.

East Palestine closed with a 12-2 league record while the Lions finished with an 11-3 mark.

HARTSHORN SCORED 18 points in Saturday's clash while Big Jim McCloskey of the Bulldogs was holding Miller to only 9 markers. McCloskey tallied 10 points and Ronnie Watt contributed 14.

Minerva's top scorer was Gary Nigro who popped in 14 markers.

East Palestine also won the Tri-County League football championship this season, so the Bulldogs made a clean sweep in the major sports.

Columbiana wound up in third place in the cage loop with a 10-4 record. The Clippers were forced into overtime to whip Poland Saturday night, 63-61. Ken Gallagher's jump shot with 15 seconds left in the overtime provided the margin of victory. The fray was knotted at 56-all at the end of regulation time.

Leetonia tied Poland for fourth place by tripping Leetonia, 71-63. Leetonia jumped off to a 19-8 lead in the first quarter, but the Leopards rallied behind Darrell Sommers and Gary Allen in the second canto to take a 35-33 lead at half-time.

Sommers wound up with 18 points for Louisville. Jim Franko burned the nets for 25 points, a single game high for the Bears this season.

In the other Tri-County League game Saturday, Sebring pounded Lisbon deeper into the basement with a 46-39 thumping. The Blue Devils, who won only one game this season (44-42 from Leetonia), trailed all the way.

Roger McCaughin hooped 17 points for Lisbon. Ray Dorr led the Sebring attack with 18.

ALL TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE teams now move into tournament action.

Columbiana, Leetonia and Lisbon will all open in the Class A Sectional at Canton; Minerva plays in the Class AA Sectional at Alliance; East Palestine in the Class AA Sectional at Struthers; Louisville in the Class AA Sectional at Canton; Poland in the Class AA Sectional at Youngstown; and Sebring in the Mahoning County Class A tournament at Struthers.

Here are the final standings and individual scoring leaders at the close of the regular season.

Tucson Open Won by Hill

Victor Sinks 27-Foot Desperation Putt

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A 27-foot desperation putt good for a birdie on the third hole Sunday gave Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., victory in the sudden death playoff for top money in the $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Former U.S. Open champ Tommy Bolt and California rookie Buddy Sullivan quietly headed for the clubhouse as the 23-year-old Hill leaped for joy. It was his first PGA victory.

The putt that wasn't meant to fall earned $2,800 for Hill and trimmed Bolt and Sullivan's shares to $1,670 each.

"I just hit it," said the elated youngster. "I had no idea it would go in. All I was trying to do was get close to the pin for a par."

Hill also had something to jump about a few minutes earlier when his 15-foot putt dropped for an eagle 3 on the par-5, 510-yard 18th hole. This gave him a 5-under-par 65 for the round and a 72-hole total of 269.

Sullivan stood up under pressure by coming out of trees for a birdie on the 18th. Bolt also had 269.

Bolt missed a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the first extra hole by less than an inch. All three took par fours for the 368-yard hole.

Bolt went for victory on the second hole with a 20-foot chip shot from the apron that rimmed the cup and hung on the lip. He had to settle for a par 4 on the 450-yard No. 2 hole. So did Hill and Sullivan. The end came on the next green.

Charles Sifford, perennial National Negro champ, started the final round only a stroke behind Sullivan. He watched seven putts stop within two inches of the cup to give him a 71 and a tie with Art Wall Jr. at 9-under-par 271. Each got $1,150.

Jay Hebert, co-leader at the halfway mark, was in a group of five with 272. The others were Dave Marr, Mason Rudolph, Marty Furgol, Jack Cupit and Gary Player. This brought them $835 apiece.

MAHONING COUNTY Class A basketball tournament gets underway tonight at Struthers Field House with three contests on tap.

Sebring, which steps down from Class AA this year, will tangle with Western Reserve in the 6 p.m. opener. Sebring had a 4-14 season record while Western Reserve was 1-16.

Greenford will clash with defending champion Lowellville in the second encounter at 7:20. These two Inter-County League teams split even in two games during the regular season and both had 9-9 season records.

In the finale at 8:40, North Lima (7-11) will meet Jackson Milton (1-17).

Springfield Local (6-12) drew a first round bye.

The double elimination tournament will continue on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with the final tilt scheduled for Saturday.

Two teams from this tournament will advance to the Warren Class A Sectional.

UNITED BOOSTERS TO MEET

The United Booster Club will meet at 8:30 tonight at the school. Secretary John Summer urges all members to attend as plans will be made for several future events.

HEAVYWEIGHT KEITH BERGER and 165-pounder Roy Carter failed to place in the top four but both picked up valuable points for the Beavers by winning preliminary round matches.

The only Beaver wrestlers to drop out in the first round were Dave Stacey and Ricky Hoppel.

The State Tournament will be held in Columbus on March 3-4. There will be 16 candidates in each weight division and to win a State title, a wrestler must win four matches.

Seven of the 11 Beaver Local wrestlers entered in the tournament placed and Hoppel and Gary Rambo both qualified for the State Tournament. The first two places in each weight division qualified for State.

HOPPEL, who was a state champion in his class two years ago, defeated the defending state champion in the 120-pound class, Lawrence of Crestwood, by a big 11-4 score Saturday. Rambo placed second in his division. Coach O'Rourke said Hoppel "looked as good as he has looked all year."

Capt. Francis Campbell, the only senior on the squad, was the man who clinched the District title for the Beavers. The outcome of the tourney came right down to Campbell's last match, the consolation contest in the 175-pound division. He came through in fine fashion and the Beavers nipped Wooster by one point. The win gave Campbell third place.

THIS WAS ONLY the third year that Beaver Local has participated in the District Tournament. Three years ago, Coach O'Rourke's squad placed 11th in the District Tournament at East Liverpool. Last year at Kent the Beavers finished second, missing the top spot by two points. Now in their third try, Beaver Local has become the best wrestling squad in the District.

Besides Hoppel, Rambo and Campbell, the Beavers had four other boys place in the first four Saturday. They were Francis Fossage, 120, third; Larry Yost, 138, third; John Cook, 103, fourth; and Don Goforth, 112, fourth.

When Yost lost his match, it broke his undefeated string this season which had reached 19 matches.

Philadelphia was the only National League club to hit less than 119 home runs last season. The Phils hit 99.

Longest field goal kicked in the Big Ten last season was a 44-yarder booted by Jim Bakken of Wisconsin against Marquette.

Hoppel, Rambo Qualify for State

Beaver Wrestlers Cop District Championship

Coach Jack O'Rourke's crack Beaver Local High School wrestling squad brought home a District Championship and qualified two men for the State Finals in tournament action over the weekend at Kent State University.

The Beavers edged out Wooster, 60-59, to cop the District title. Crestwood was third with 51 points; Canton McKinley placed fourth and Barborton took fifth. The largest District Tournament in the state, 25 teams, participated at Kent State.

Lisbon Defeats Salem In 8th Grade Tourney

Lisbon defeated Salem, 38 - 30, Saturday night in the Salem Junior High School gym to win the 8th Annual Salem Invitational 8th Grade Basketball Tournament.

Fairfield-Waterford defeated Alliance State St., 38-32, in the consolation game to take third place.

Earlier in the week, Salem's undefeated 7th grade squad had captured the 7th grade tourney by downing Knox in the finals.

In the 8th grade championship affair Saturday, played before approximately 100 fans, Lisbon moved out to a narrow 11-9 first quarter lead, then upped its margin to 19-11 by halftime as the Quakers failed to hit a field goal in the second quarter.

GARY RUTTER and Kim Manning gave the Blue Devils almost complete control of the board. Salem hit a poor 19 per cent from the field, including only 10 per cent in the first half. Lisbon peppered the hoop for a 36 per cent accuracy mark.

Tim Bucher led Lisbon's scoring with 14 points while Rutter contributed 12 markers to the winning cause. Salem's big guns were Dick Wilt with 8 and Jim Miller with 7.

In the consolation game, J. Mercer notched 10 points in leading Fairfield-Waterford to its 38 - 32 win over Alliance State St. Gallino collected 13 points for the losers.

Fairfield got in trouble when its big gun, center Larry Athey, picked up his fourth personal early in the second quarter. He was then held out of action until the third quarter when he sparked the Rebels in a second half drive. Athey wound up with 8 points.

FOUR SALEM 7th graders and three 8th graders were named to the respective all tournament teams.

On the 10-man 7th grade team were Klepper, Miller, Alexander and Chappell of Salem; Citino and Heacock of Knox; Ward and Athey of Fairfield-Waterford; May of East Palestine; and Lear of Alliance State St.

Named to the 8th grade all-tourney team were Miller, Mosher and Sutter of Salem; Bucher, Rutter and Andre of Lisbon; Horger of Beaver Local; Athey and J. Mercer of Fairfield-Waterford; and Gallina of Alliance State St.

Lowrey Wins Baseball Players Match

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Little Peanut Lowrey outdove and out-putted his rivals to win the baseball players golf championship with a final round of 72 and a 72-hole score of 295.

Lowrey's two-over-par finish Sunday gave him a three stroke triumph over Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, who shot a 74 for a 298 total at the Miami Springs course.

The 5-foot-9 coach of the Philadelphia Phillies credited his victory to long smashes off the tees and to his steady putting game.

Alvin Dark San Francisco Giants manager also had a fine round, coming in with a 74 to tie the defending champion Jim Hearn former Philadelphia pitcher for third place at 301.

Ralph Terry, New York Yankee right-hander, was fifth with a 78 for a 305 total. Paul Waner, the veteran hall of famer and Jimmy Davenport, Giant third baseman, were tied for sixth at 307.

Runyan Wins Seniors Golf Championship

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Paul Runyan, is the new Professional Golfers Association seniors champion today.

Runyan carded a 3-under-par 69 for his final round of the tournament over the 6,614-yard national PGA course Sunday for a 72-hole total of 278, ten strokes under par and six strokes better than the previous tournament record.

In second place, three strokes behind, was Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex. Clarence Doser of Gaithersburg, Md., who led by two strokes at the start of the final day, finished third with 282.

Runyan, playing in his third seniors, finished second the two previous years.

Joe Brown of Des Moines, Iowa, finished a surprising fourth at 283, carding a 68 — best round of the day — for his final round. Ivan Gantz of Indianapolis was next at 284.

A total of 15 players were par or better for the 72 holes.

New Marks Expected This Season

Fistfull of Track, Field Records In Jeopardy

NEW YORK (AP)—Up, up, up, climb the "magic figures" in track and field.

You don't need a long memory to recall when the four-minute mile was just a remote possibility and the 16-foot pole vault was spoken of in whispers.

Now, with the indoor season less than half over, a whole fistfull of records are in jeopardy.

Start with the mile.

It never has been run in four minutes indoors because of the numerous turns on banked tracks. Ron Delany's 4:04 is the record. But Istvan Rozsavolgyi, the skinny Hungarian army captain, has his sights set on the first indoor four-minute job.

He is confident he can do it. His best to date in five races this season is 0:04, but he hit 4:0:8 in chasing Delany to the Irishman's record two years ago.

The pole vault?

Don Bragg's 15-9½ still stands as the indoor record. Bragg always has had his heart set on becoming the first man to get over 16 feet.

Discouraged because of assorted ills early this season, he wanted to quit. Then, two weeks ago in Philadelphia, he barely missed at 16 feet. Last week in the New York Athletic Club games, he again just did it the crossbar after getting his body safely over.

Now he is sure that he'll get over 16 feet.

How high can they go in the high jump?

Probably only Valery Brumel, the 1

Waning Ohio College Cage Slate Crammed with Action

Unmarried Season Eyed by Buckeyes

Case Tech Has Slight Edge In PC: Defiance Stalled In Title Quest

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate basketball campaign is waning—but the final two weeks are crammed with action.

Ohio State's top-ranked Bucks came within an eyelash of being upset by Iowa's scholarly 18-point underdogs Saturday night—but eked out a 62-61 win over the revamped Hawks after being behind for almost 38 minutes. That made it 20-0 for Ohio for the season.

The Iowa club, with four new comers in the lineup after a quarter of starters had bowed out scholastically, led by 34-24 at the half, and missed a shot and tip-in try in the last four seconds which could have turned the conquest to disaster.

Tonight Ohio plays Indiana at Bloomington. The Bucks entertain Wisconsin here Saturday. A pair of wins would clinch at least a share of a second straight Big Ten title for Ohio. Indiana is 11-7, Wisconsin 4-14 for the campaign.

Ohio U. Wins MAC Crown

Ohio University, with a 74-72 squeaker over Bowling Green, grabbed its second straight Mid-American crown with a 10-1 record, and Wittenberg has the Ohio Conference laurels wrapped up for the third straight year.

Case Tech, with a 6-2 record, has a slight edge in the Presidents' Conference, John Carroll and W. & J. being deadlocked for second with 6-3. The runner-up teams clash Saturday on the Pennsylvania floor.

Defiance, defending king of the Mid-Ohio, was stalled Saturday in quest of its second straight title by second-place Ohio Northern, 89-62. That left Defiance with a 9-1 record and Ohio Northern 8-2.

Wilmington (5-5) gets a crack at both leaders this week.

This week's 41-game schedule features 24 against out-of-state teams, in addition to the second annual Ohio Conference tournament frays at Akron and Capital Universities Friday and Saturday.

Last week the Buckeye clubs won 18 and lost 13 in interstate play, for a season record of 176 victories against 127 losses. Home teams were victorious in 37 of 55 games, running their advantage over guest clubs to 350 to 168.

Cincinnati's fourth-ranked Bearcats, following Saturday's 81-52 win over Tulsa for their 14th straight and a 9-2 record in the Missouri Valley Conference, need only a win over North Texas Saturday to at least share the league crown.

Ohio University's Mid-American crown sends the Bobcats into the NCAA tournament. Their first foe will be Louisville, which whipped the Athens team 117-84 last Wednesday, but which dropped a 91-71 verdict to Dayton's resurgent Flyers Saturday.

Standout games on this week's slate include:

Monday: Ohio State at Indiana, Marshall at Bowling Green, Eastern Kentucky at Miami.

Tuesday: Kent State at Toledo, Ohio Wesleyan at Wittenberg.

Wednesday: Ohio Northern at Wilmington, Findlay at Defiance, Xavier at Dayton.

Thursday: Ohio U. at Miami, Cincinnati at Houston, Allegheny at Case.

Friday: John Carroll at Bethany, Western Reserve at Wayne.

Saturday: Wisconsin at Ohio State, Cincinnati at North Texas, Wilmington at Defiance, Ohio Northern at Ashland, John Carroll at W. & J., Case at Wayne, Eastern Kentucky at Dayton.

West Branch Nips Beaver Local 54-52 in Final Tilt

West Branch closed its regular season with a fine '6-2 record after posting a 54-52 win over host Beaver Local Saturday night.

Beaver goes into tournament play with a 12-5 record. The Beavers will play their first tourney tilt at Youngstown South Field House on Feb. 28 against the winner of a first round clash between Youngstown Rayen and Austin Fitch.

West Branch will see its Sectional Tourney action at Alliance. The Warriors meet Canton Glenwood on Friday night.

West Branch maintained a narrow lead throughout most of its tilt with Beaver Local Saturday. The Warriors held quarter leads of 17-13, 30-27 and 46-38.

Dick Loudon led the West Branch scoring attack with 18 points. Fred Brunner added 15, Tom Baxter 14, Dan Dennis 4, Norm Wallace 2 and Chuck Wilson 1.

For Beaver, Mike Durbin was high with 17, Dick Barnhart collected 14, Jim Pike 9, Jim Banner 6, Bill Reed 4 and John Baker 2.

Royals' Farmer Injured In Mixup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mike Farmer, pro basketball player with Cincinnati's Royals, landed in Christ Hospital with a concussion after a mixup with Ray Felix of Los Angeles.

Farmer was hospitalized Sunday, but X-rays showed no jaw fracture as feared.

Farmer is not expected to play Tuesday at St. Louis, a team official said.

Felix made a wild swing in the fourth quarter of the game Sunday after a rebound try and it connected with Farmer, knocking him unconscious. Farmer could not continue and Felix was sent from the game.

Cincinnati went on to win, 112-106.

Felix also got into a scrap with an unidentified spectator and said another spat on him before he reached the dressing room.

Hoosiers Tough To Beat at Home

OSU Faces Indiana Tonight Following 62-61 Iowa Scare

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like the frying pan and the fire, it's out of Iowa City barely and into Bloomington tonight for Ohio State's singed Buckeyes in the second of two showdown steps toward major college basketball's first all-winning regular season record in four years.

The top-ranked Buckeyes, breathing hard after whipping up a 10-point late-game burst that beat Iowa 62-61 Saturday night, go against the revenge-minded Indiana Hoosiers—a tough to beat bunch at home even when they don't have a grudge to settle.

After Indiana tonight, Ohio State has three games left—at home against Wisconsin and Michigan State, and on the road at Illinois. The three have a combined Big Ten record of 6-20.

Second-ranked St. Bonaventure, shadowing the Buckeyes with a 20-1 record and 11-game streak, also has a pair of games during the week.

The Bonnies, who needed a comeback like Ohio State's to beat DePaul 78-69 last Saturday, seek their 99th and 100th straight home victories when they go against Siena Thursday and Niagara Saturday.

With five brackets still to be filled in the National Invitation Tournament and only one automatic berth of 16 conference places filled in the NCAA, there's

Tribe To Open Spring Training

Dykes Certain Indians To Be In Pennant Race

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Although Jimmie Dykes has been a major league manager 22 seasons, none of his teams has finished higher than third place. He thinks his 1961 Cleveland Indians can change that.

"We have the potential," said the 64-year-old pilot as he prepared for the opening of spring training Wednesday. "There are questions and everyone knows what they are. But I've said all along that this team will be in the pennant race."

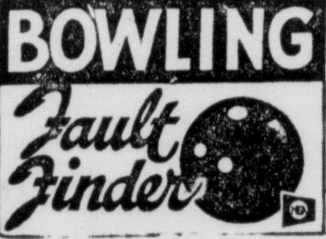

Dykes feels the Indians will have a lot of power with John Romano, Woodie Held, Tito Fran-cona and Willie Kirkland. "Not so much speed," Dykes said Sunday, "but power counts in today's game." He added:

"And we could have a good group of starting pitchers. Jim Perry and Johnny Antonelli I feel pretty sure about. And if Gary Bell can come back, well . . ."

"I'd like to use five starters, and Barry Latman, Jim Grant and Bobby Locke all will get their shots."

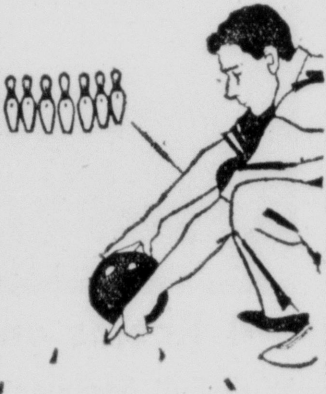

Dykes admitted the Indians don't have a top-notch relief pitcher, but added that "Frank Funk and maybe Dick Stigman can come through for us."

Danny McDevitt, now with the Yankees, won the last major league game played at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn in 1957. He was a Dodger then.

Lindy McDaniel, St. Louis relief pitcher, took part in three shutouts in games started last year by other Cardinal pitchers.

Eric Guerin is the last jockey to win the Delaware Handicap twice. He won with Busanda in 1951 and with Parlo in 1955.

The 84 forward passes caught by Erloy Hirsch of Los Angeles in 1950 is still a National Football League record.

Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles Dodgers pitched a one-hitter and a two-hitter last season yet won only 8 of 21 decisions.

FAMOUS ECONOMY. Up to 15% better mileage than last year with new V-8's and Super-Economy "6".

FAMOUS BEAUTY. No frills, no fads. Mercury's lines are trim, clean, classic—stay in style far longer.

SMOOTHER RIDE. Like a swan on a pond. Try exclusive Cushion-Link ride (on Monterey, Meteor 800).

EXTRA PEP. Up to 10% more pickup than even last year's brilliant Mercury. Mercury's super-powered engines do the exceptional with matter-of-fact ease.

ALL-ROUND COMFORT. Relax. The ride is steady and quiet. Mercury has a longer wheelbase (120"), more weight, more insulation than competitive cars.

now available in the popular-price range!

1 MERCURY MONTEREY Finest 1961 Mercury—America's lowest-priced luxury car.	2 MERCURY METEOR 800 Priced to compete with the top series in the low-price field.	3 MERCURY METEOR 600 Priced right in the heart of the low-price field.

Columbiana Baseball League Officials to Meet Wednesday

COLUMBIANA — A program for the approaching season will be developed at a meeting Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. of the Columbiana Bantam Baseball League. The meeting, open to all interested persons, will be held in the assembly room in the new Veterans of Foreign Wars building at N. Main and Prospect Sts.

Presiding at the session will be the new officers: Don Perrin, president; Jack Newell, vice president; Mrs. Ellen Grant, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Hughes, treasurer, and Edward Gustafson, executive secretary. Three trustees will be elected during the meeting.

Gustafson has announced that registration for prospective Bantam League players will be conducted the next two Saturdays — Feb. 25 and March 4 — in the home economics room of the high school building.

Boys aged 8 through 15 years are eligible to participate in the league. To register, they must be accompanied by a parent. There will be a $1 fee for registration. Hours for the sign-up have been listed as from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m.

"THE ART OF MAKING BASKETS" will be described by Mrs. Donald Kirchner of Youngstown when she appears as a guest speaker at the Columbiana Garden Club meeting scheduled for Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Clarence Koch.

Mrs. Lee Bookwalter will be associate hostess. Members are reminded to take with them to the meeting a ruler, an ice pick and a pair of scissors.

Color slides taken in Germany, Belgium and Holland will be shown by Mrs. Edward Dailey as entertainment for the Mothers Study Group which will meet Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the Fairfield school building.

Lunch will be available at the school cafeteria that day for members who phone in a reservation on Wednesday. Baby sitters will be provided for young children while mothers take part in the meeting.

Lisbon Social

A progressive dinner party, an annual affair for the Wednesday Evening Discussion Group, was held Saturday evening beginning at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Charles Pike for the first course.

The dinner course followed at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Richard Kennedy and dessert and a program were then enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G.V. Weinstein.

Mrs. Twila Hochmann, an art teacher in Lisbon schools, was a guest and provided the program, "An Art Lesson". Hoyt Sexton and Charles Pike received awards in conjunction with the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKenzie of Lisbon-Camfield Rd. will have the March 3 meeting when the program will be on Civil Defense.

Mrs. Frank Morlan was hostess to associates of the Bide-A-Wee Club Thursday night at her home on E. Pine St. The evening was spent in a social manner and a belated Valentine exchange was enjoyed.

Mrs. Don Lewton of Elk St. will entertain the club March 2.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL M. Faulk of Blacks Rd. returned to their home Thursday from a two-week vacation in Florida. At Crescent City they visited with Mr. Faulk's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Faulk and at Miami Heights with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Baker.

The Bakers they toured the Keys, Everglades and other points of interest.

Howard Pennell of Lisbon Rd. 1 and his daughter, Mrs. Richard Henthorne of N. Market St., were pleasantly surprised Friday evening when Mrs. Pennell entertained with a family dinner party in honor of their respective birthday anniversaries. Eighteen were present.

In addition to the immediate families, present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McQuiston of Columbiana, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hawthorne of Homeworth and Mr. and Mrs. James Burgham of Lisbon.

Both honorees were remembered with gifts, and a decorated birthday cake was a feature of the dinner.

Phillip Winters, son of State Highway Patrolman and Mrs. Phillip Winters of Leontina Rd., returned home Wednesday from University Hospital in Cleveland where he had been under medical care the past six weeks. Phillip observed his third birthday while in the hospital.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES McKenzie and daughters, Lisa and Anita, of Lisbon-Camfield Rd. returned to their home Friday from a two-week vacation spent at Ormond Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. James Babb of N. Jefferson St. spent the weekend with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Babb in Salem and with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carter in Warren.

Fred Clunk Jr. and Mrs. Mae Phillips of Sandusky visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clunk and brother, Duane, of N. Beaver St.

SP-4 Gene Bates is spending a 30-day leave with his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Neal, and uncle, Jesse Gillespie, of N. Beaver St., having just returned from Korea where he was stationed for more than a year. Bates has been in the Army the past nine years, serving also in Germany and in England. He plans to re-enlist in June for another six-year term.

John Novak of Caldwell Ave. entered Salem City Hospital Friday where he will undergo treatment. He is in room 204.

Four Driver Fined By Judge MacDonald

LISBON — Four motorists were fined a total of $70 and costs Saturday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for traffic violations after being cited by the State Highway Patrol. Fined were:

Walter D. Wallace, 21, Hanoverton Rd., $25, reckless operation; Robert D. Harrell, 26, East Rochester Rd., $25, speeding; Frank Ketchum, 38, Salineville Rd., $10, operating a trailer over 2,000 pounds without brakes, and Owen Sturgell, 24, Hartville, $10, reckless operation.

897 County Families Receive Surplus Food

LISBON — A total of 897 families received surplus food this month, according to Robert Bycroft, head of the surplus foods program.

A breakdown showing the totals at four distribution points follows: Tuesday — Lisbon — 231 families; Wednesday — Wellsville, 171; Thursday — East Liverpool, 340; and Friday — Salem, 155.

The Agricultural Extension Service was established in 1914 by passage of the Smith-Lever Act.

Boy

a neighbor's ranch, Faubion drove seven miles at high speed to get it. But its rope was gone.

Faubion stripped the ranch of lariat and hastened back. Tied together, the lariats came to more than 300 feet. The line was dropped into the pipe.

Eagerly, the boy called, "Daddy I can hold on to it while you pull me up."

But the father wasn't going to gamble.

"No," he shouted, "you put the loop under both your shoulders."

Struggling in the pipe, Harry got the loop under his arms.

Spelling each other, the men pulled on the rope, hauling the boy up slowly. They stopped at intervals to be sure the loop was holding.

Finally, Harry was out, put aboard a waiting ambulance and taken to the hospital.

Faubion said, "He's the bravest and luckiest boy in Arizona."

Said his dad proudly, "He always did mind good."

FIRE GUTS SUMMER HOMES

LAKEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Fire that gutted an unoccupied summer home and spread to five others Sunday caused $30,000 damage, fire officials reported.

Fire Chief Jay Juby said a defective oil heater caused the blaze in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Martin Hoover, who are vacationing in the West.

The furnace had been left operating on low heat. All the homes were unoccupied. Among the houses damaged were those of Dwight McHoy of Mansfield and the Rev. John Taylor of Steubenville.

Rea Is Appointed To Plumbers Board

Samuel H. Rea Jr. of 1198 Jennings Ave. has been appointed to succeed Aubrey Hayes on the city's plumbers examining board, City Sanitarian Angelo Vivino announced today.

Rea's appointment is for four years. Other members of the board and the years yet to serve are: Homer Ellyson of 337 Jennings Ave., one year; Walter DeJone of 542 E. School St., two years; and Lester Kille of 1745 Cleveland St., three years. Vivino is a permanent member of the board.

A new appointment is made to the board each year, and a member cannot succeed himself, Vivino added.

The city sanitarian reported that 13 men have applied for master plumbers' licenses and 20 for plumber journeymen licenses this year. The board will meet this week to act on these applications.

Class to Have Dinner

Members of the Berean Class of the First Friends Church will hold an Indian-style dinner and class meeting Tuesday evening at the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Milton Coleman, former missionaries in India, will show pictures of the Oberramergau passion play.

SETS PRICE INCREASE

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Owens-Illinois Glass Co. says prices on its glass containers will go up effective April 1.

Ray H. Mulford, executive vice president in charge of glass container operations, said a cost price squeeze last year resulted in an 18.7 percent drop in earnings despite an $8 million increase in sales. He said price increases will vary as indicated in a study of present cost-price relationships. The firm said this is its first such price boost since 1957.

EX-RESIDENT PROMOTED — David W. Hart, formerly of Salem, has been elected assistant secretary of the White Motor Co., Cleveland.

Mr. Hart, who is a graduate of Salem High School and Ohio State University, was with the General Electric Co. in Schenectady, N.Y., before joining the legal department of White Motor in 1960. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hart. Mr. Hart is now president of the Englewood, Fla., Bank.

Maid

said the maid collapsed in the house and died apparently of natural causes.

Another weekend event was the wounding of Miss Hughes and of Norman Woodward, 47, Negro operator of a fleet of taxicabs. He suffered a slight finger wound from the bullet that struck Miss Hughes.

Police said a World War I German automatic was discharged as Miss Hughes, who had sold the mansion for $75,000 and was packing some of the furniture, went with Woodward to look over some items in the library.

Woodward reached for the souvenir gun, and as he examined it the gun went off.

Police said Miss Hughes told them she had sold the house because it is too big and she was "just too lonesome" living there.

Thefts

and grand larceny and was released under $5,000 bond.

Myers, charged with receiving stolen property, is free under $2,000 bond. Garrett, charged with burglary was released under $1,000 bond.

Riddle was to be arraigned in municipal court here today on a charge of grand larceny. The two juveniles have been referred to juvenile authorities.

Calla

Ministers, Sunday School Superintendent and organists of the Green township churches met Sunday afternoon at the Greenford Christian church to make plans for the annual Easter sunrise service which will be held at the Greenford Lutheran church. A combined choir will present the music. Rev. Robert Earle from the Evangelical United Brethren church will give the Easter message. Breakfast will be served following the services.

World Day of Prayer services were observed Friday at a joint service by the churches of Green Township at the Greenford Lutheran church.

Eubie class of the EUB church met Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

Mr. Dave Williams of Canfield showed films of his trip to the Holy Land Sunday at the EUB church.

Miss Barbara Tyo, who is attending Kent State University, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Tyo, Sunday. Visitors at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Curt DeHoff of New Buffalo, Pa.

Mrs. John Utterback entertained a group of ladies recently at a home demonstration party.

Mrs. Truman Graff and son Terry of Canfield spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Craig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gee.

Dr. Merle Hayes, district superintendent of the Ohio East Conference of the EUB church, was guest speaker Sunday at the EUB church. Dr. Hayes also presided at the joint local conference meeting of the Calla and Smith Corners churches Sunday at the Smith Corners church at 2 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendricks entertained Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hemphill of North Jackson for dinner in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Hemphill and children Alan and Elizabeth Ann. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks spent a day in Canton recently.
